

Figure 1 Method (1)

Animal preparation of chronic myocardial ischemia :

Juvenile crossbred farm pigs (~20-25kg) underwent a left lateral thoracotomy. An ameroid constrictor was placed around the proximal LCX just distal to main stem of left coronary artery matching the size of the vessel (typically 1.75, 2.00, or 2.25 mm ID).

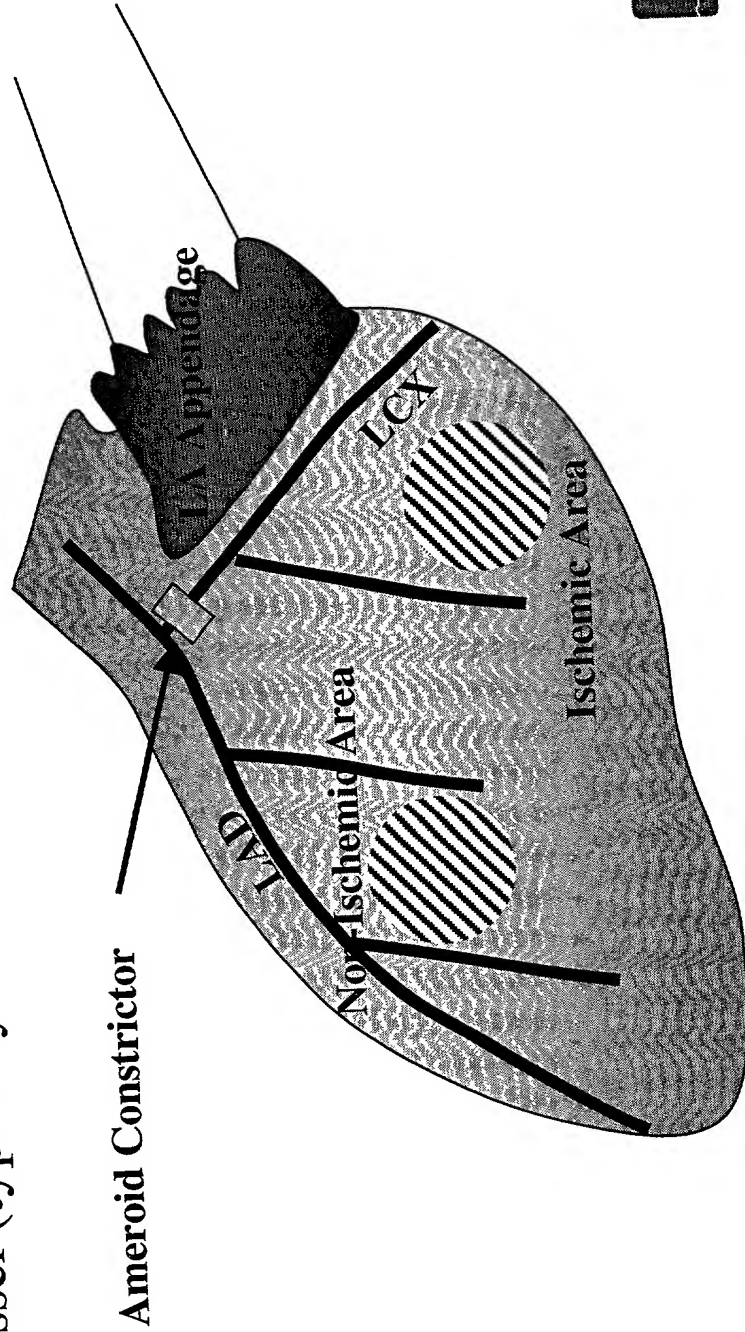

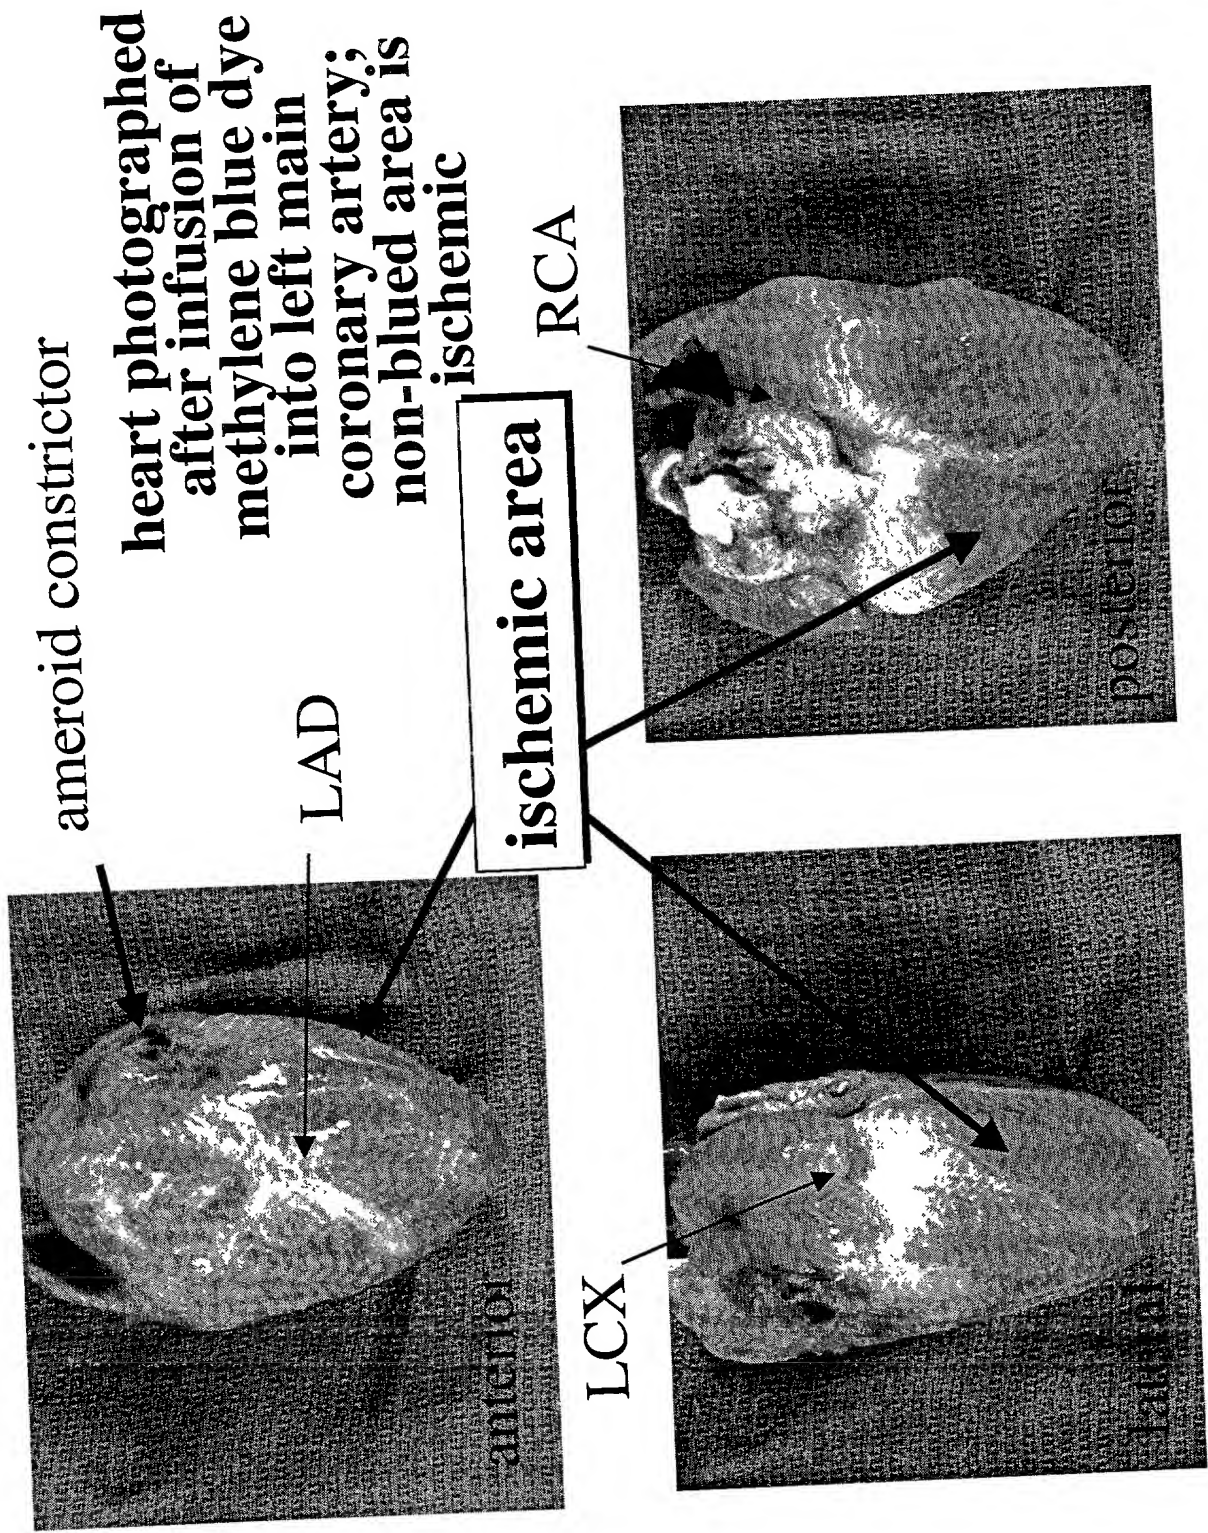

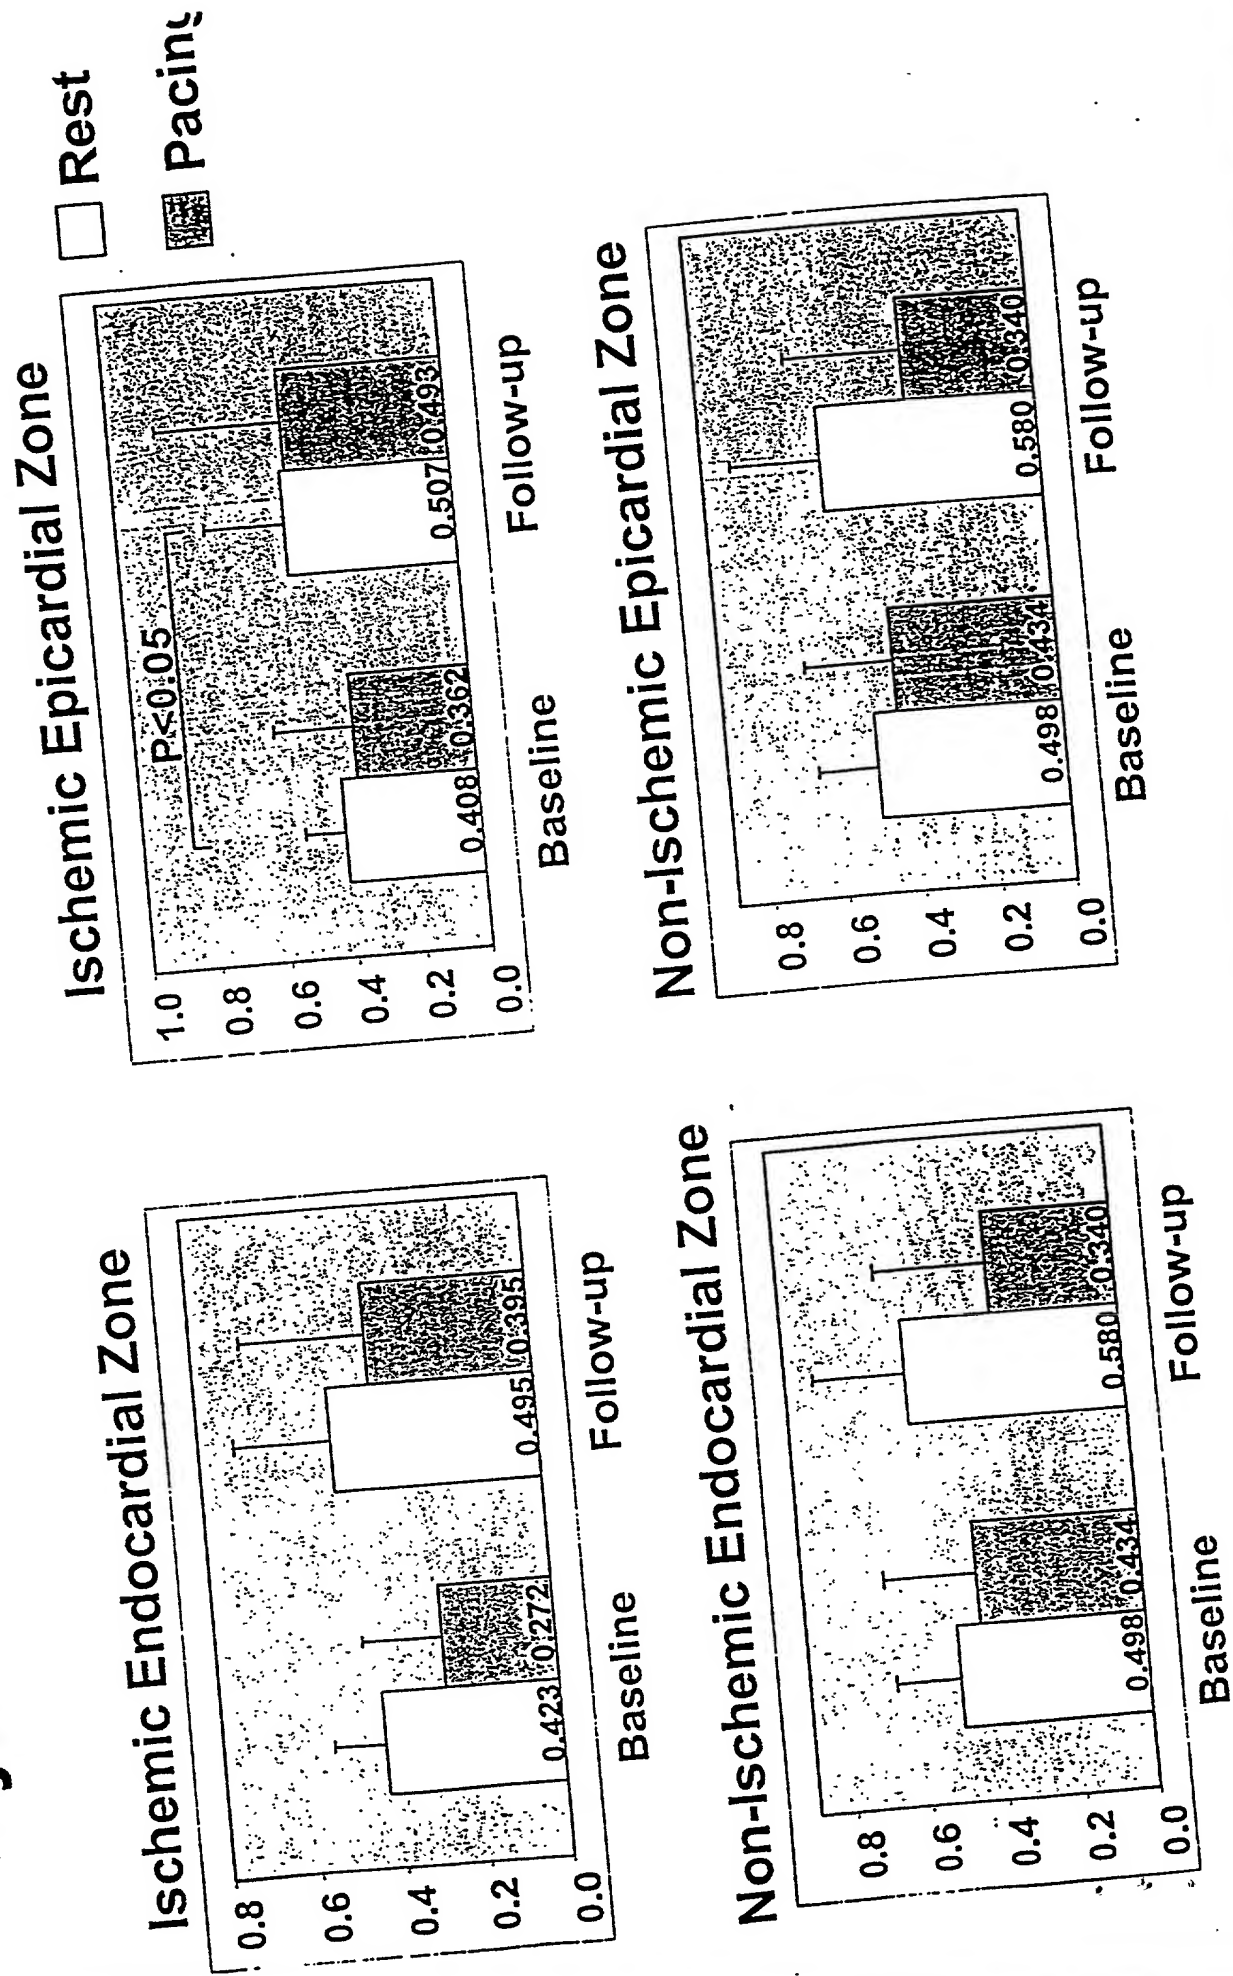

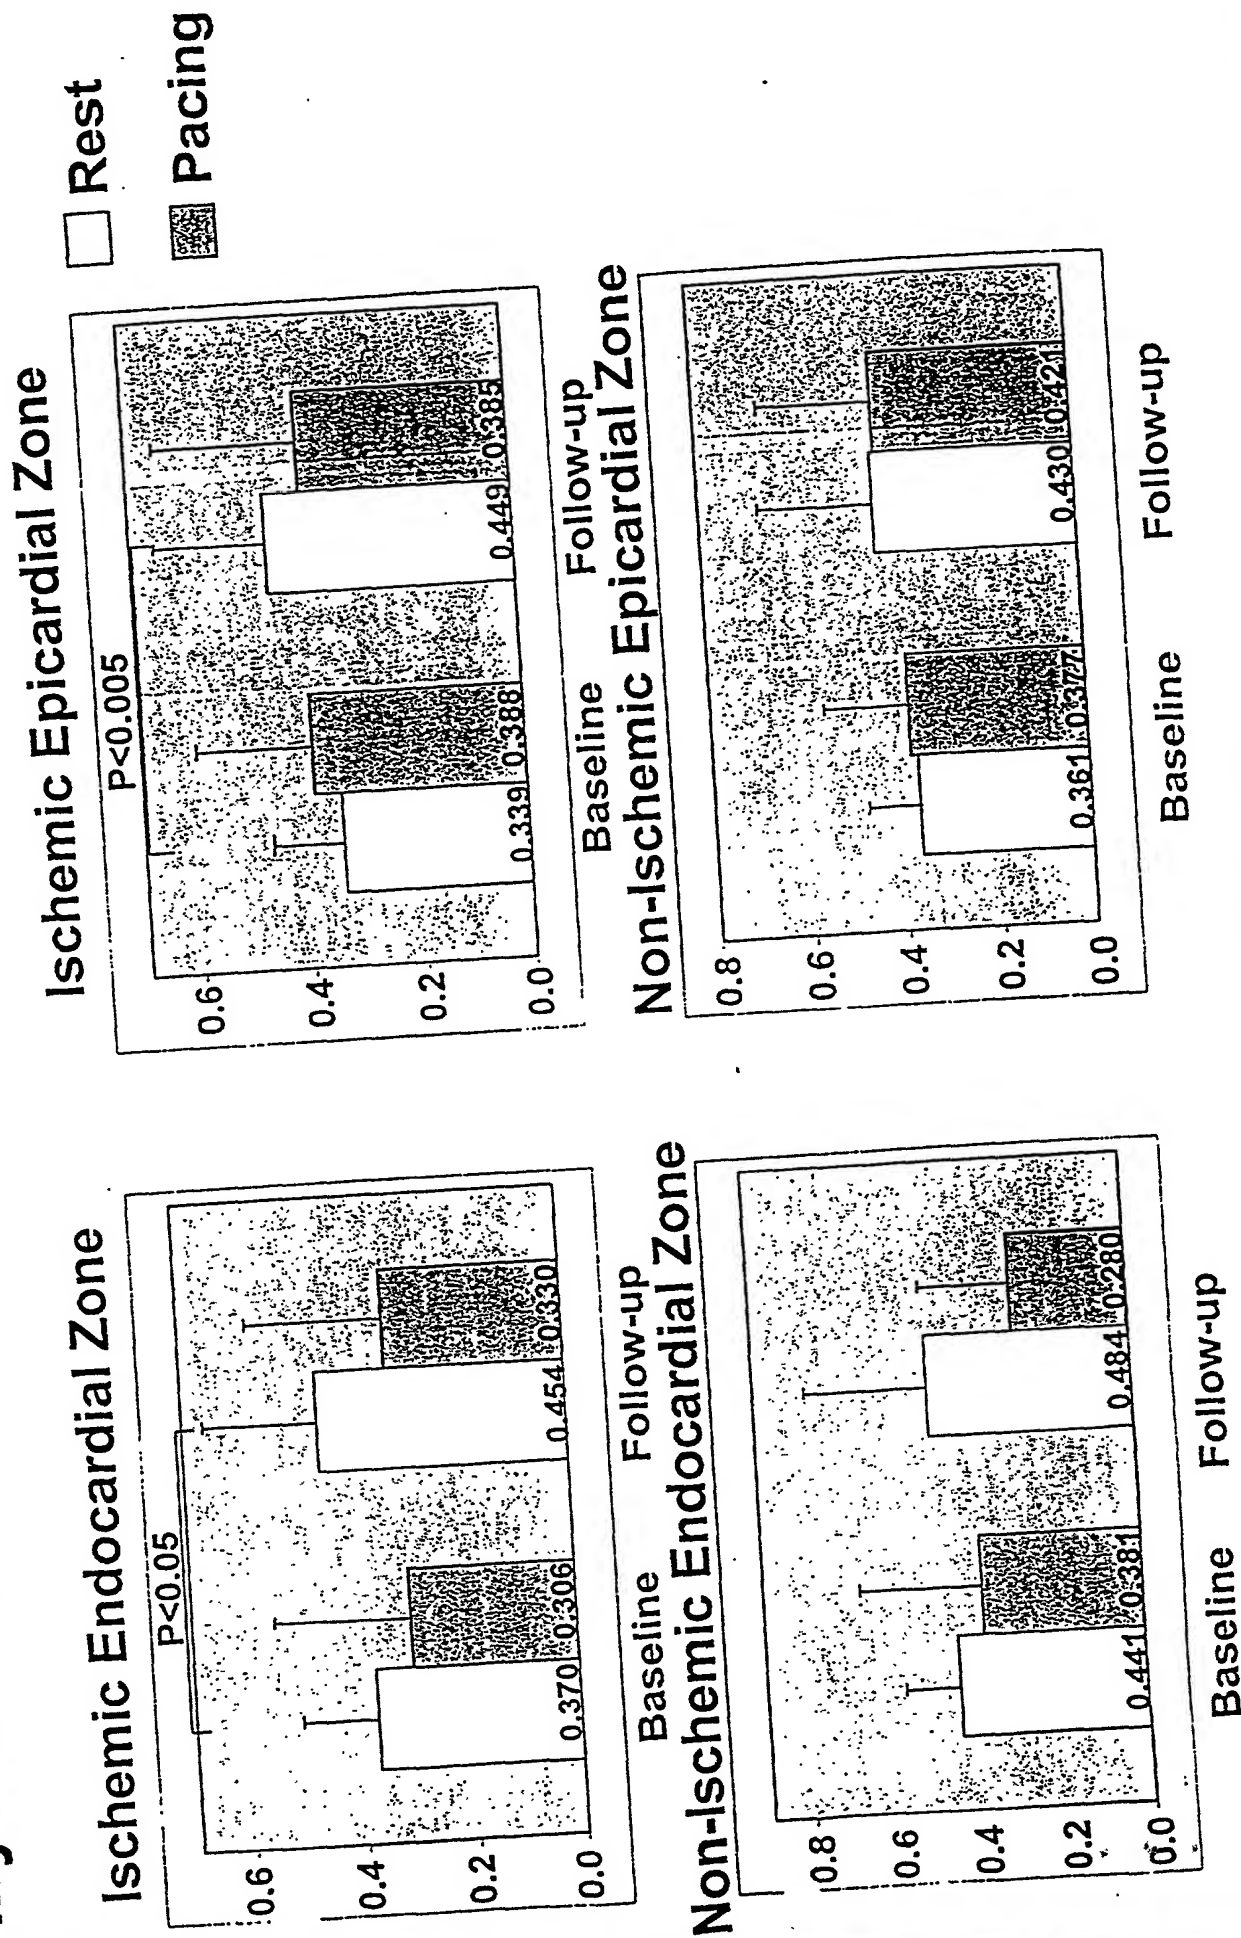

Figure 2 Ischemic Area Induced by Ameroid Constrictor

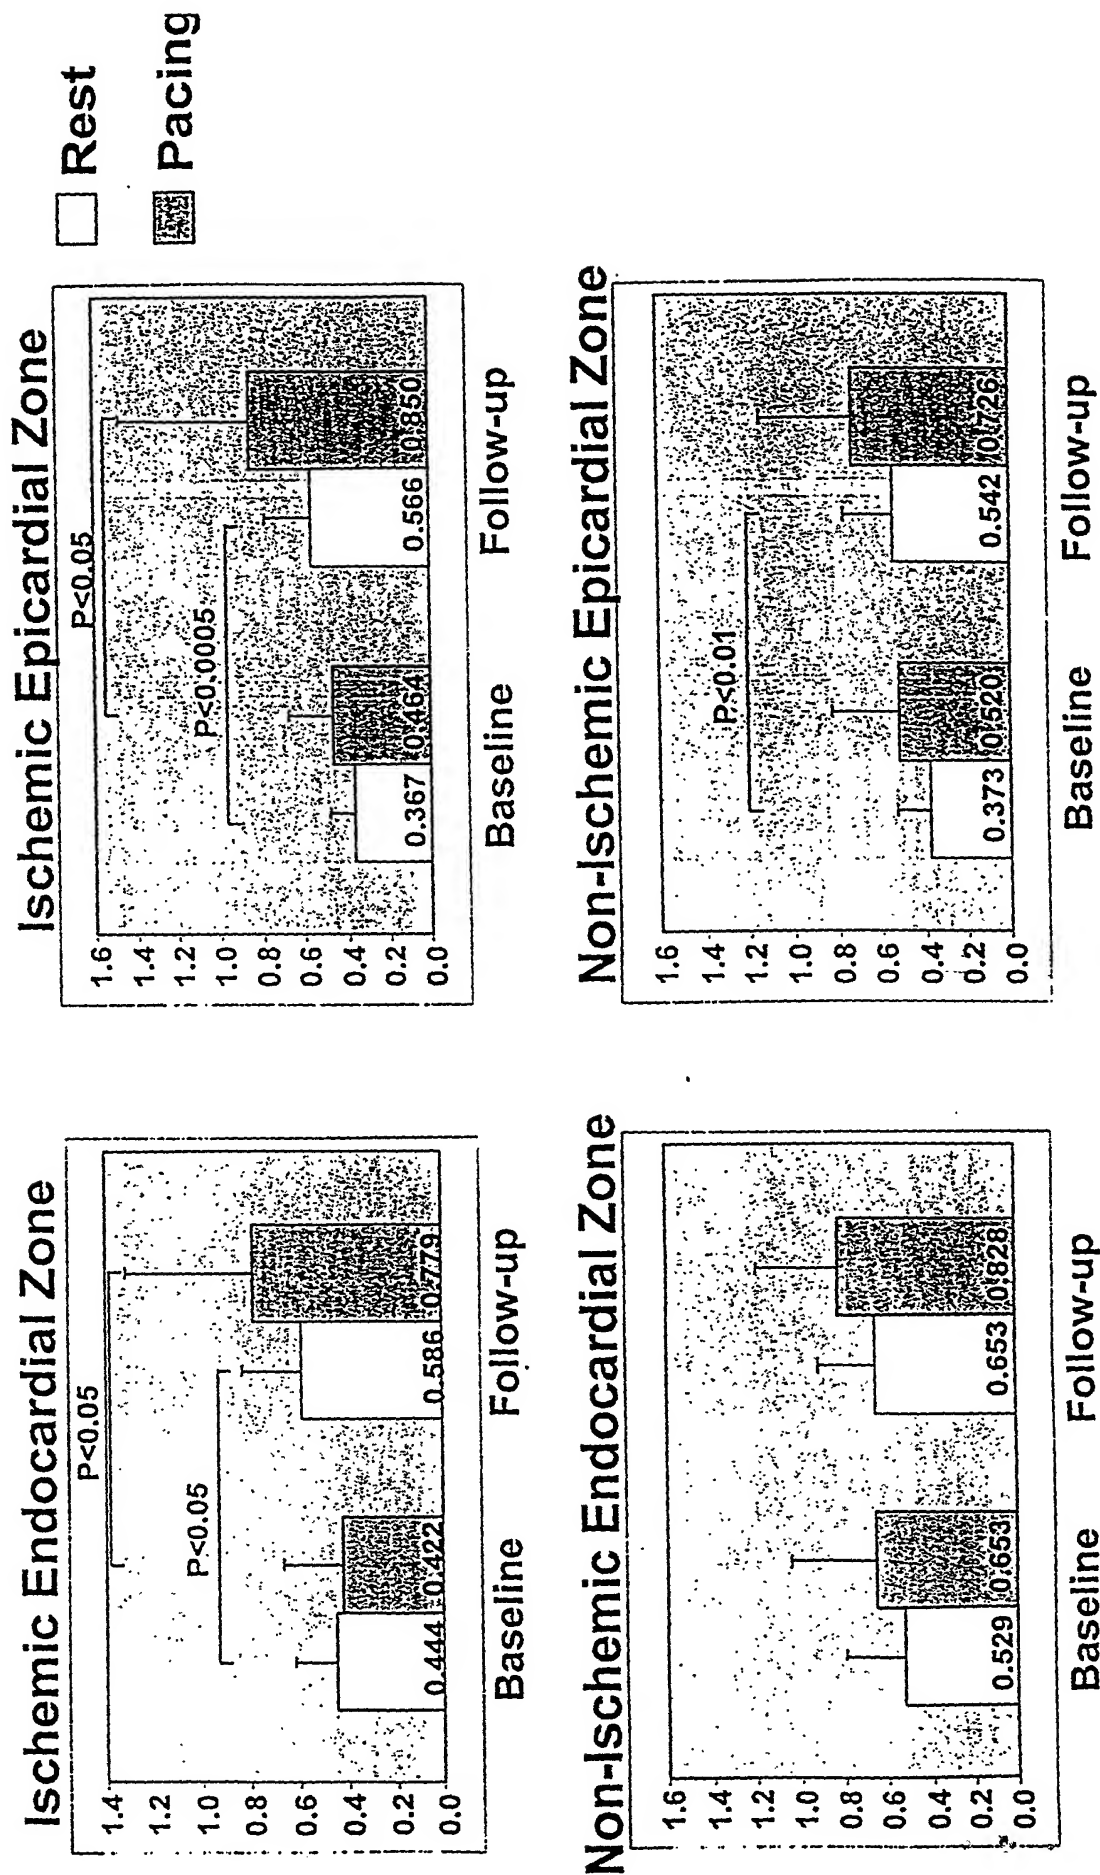

Myocardial Blood Flow in Ad- β gal Group

Myocardial Blood Flow in Ad-VEGF (Ischemic) Group

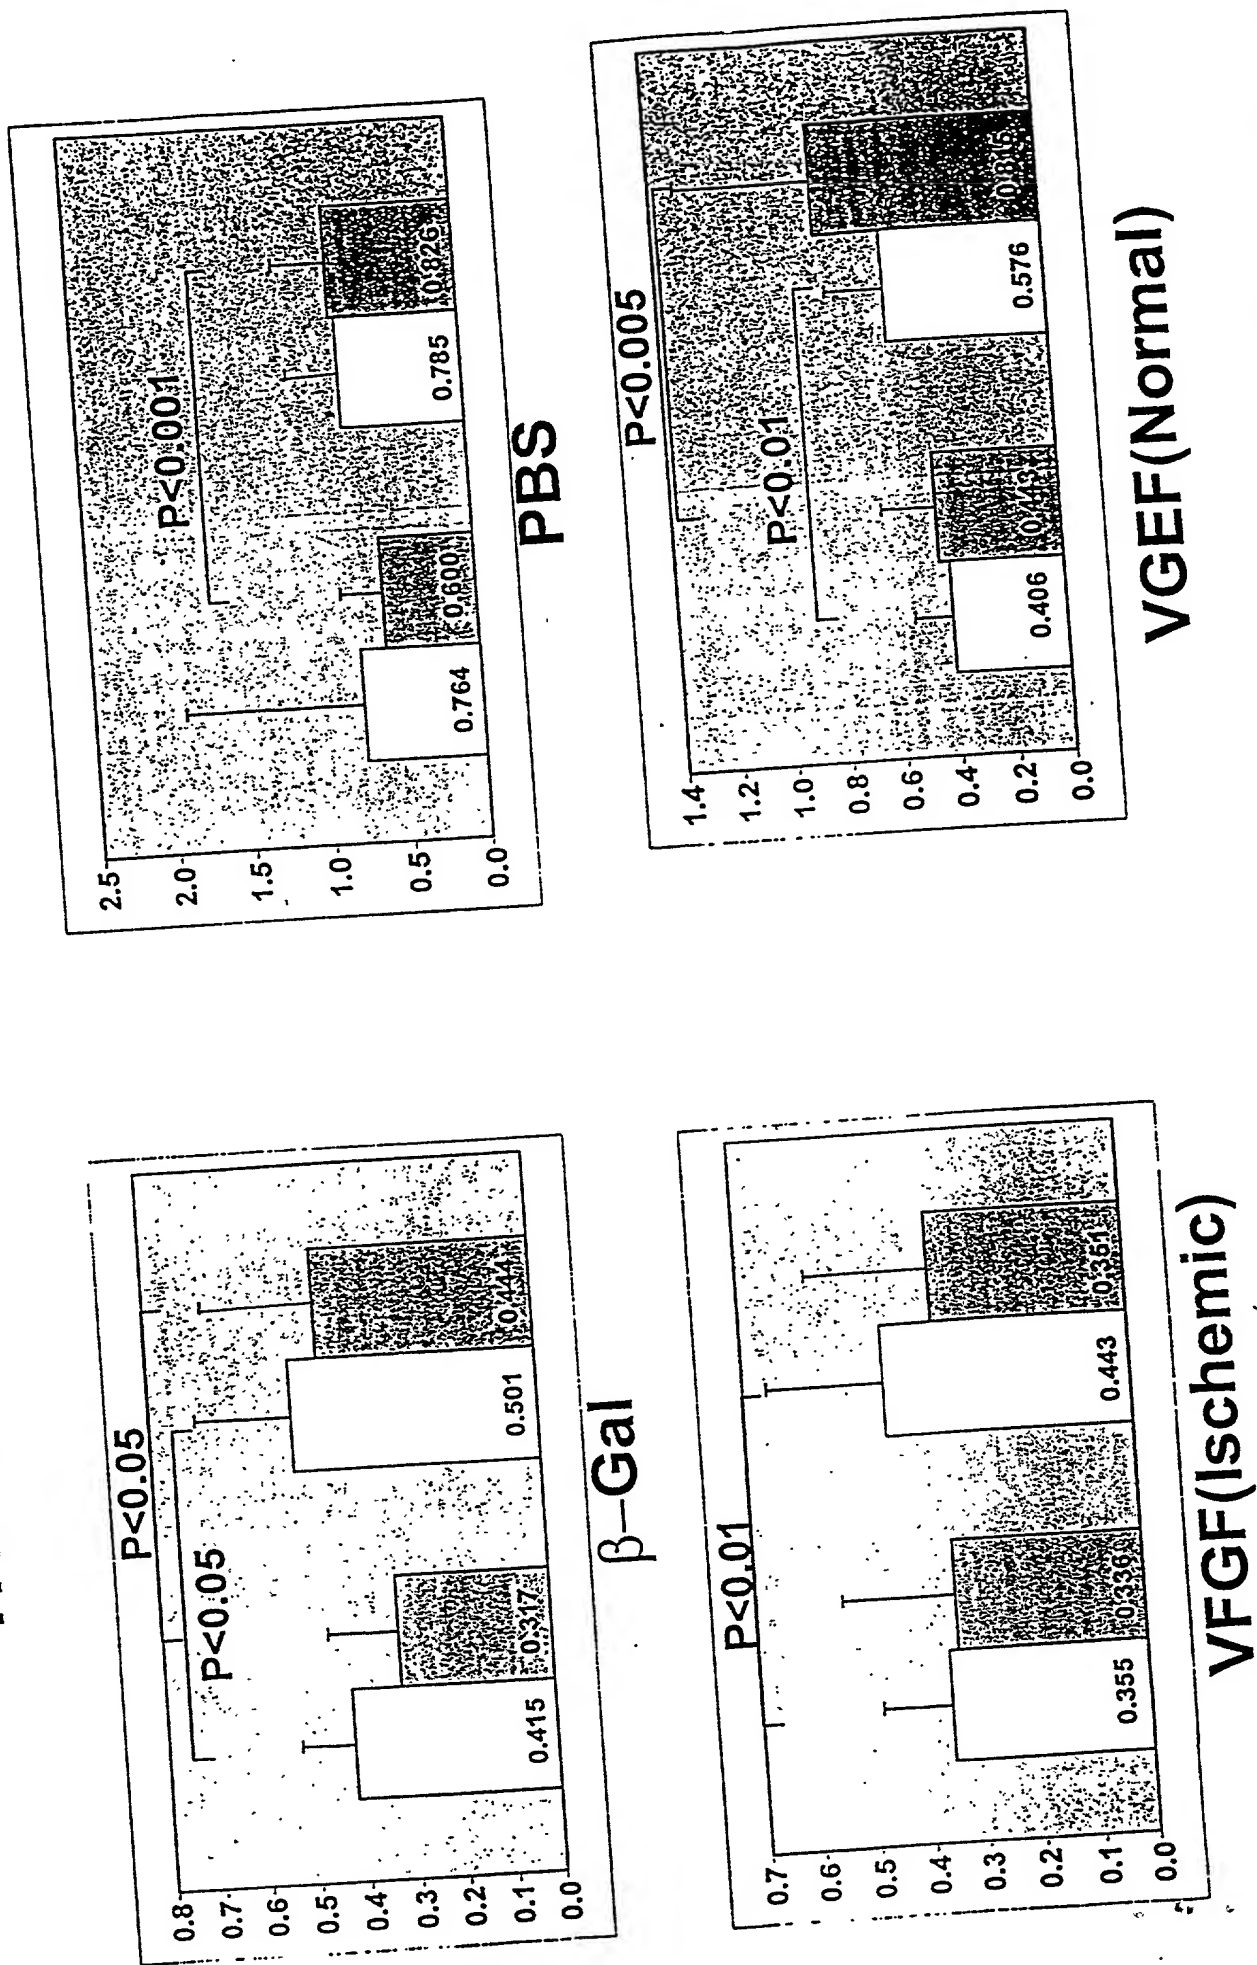

Myocardial Blood Flow in Ad-VEGF (Non-Ischemic) Group

Transmural Myocardial Blood Flow

□ Rest
 ■ Pacing

Catheter

Regional Wall Motion Score on Dobutamine Stress Echocardiography

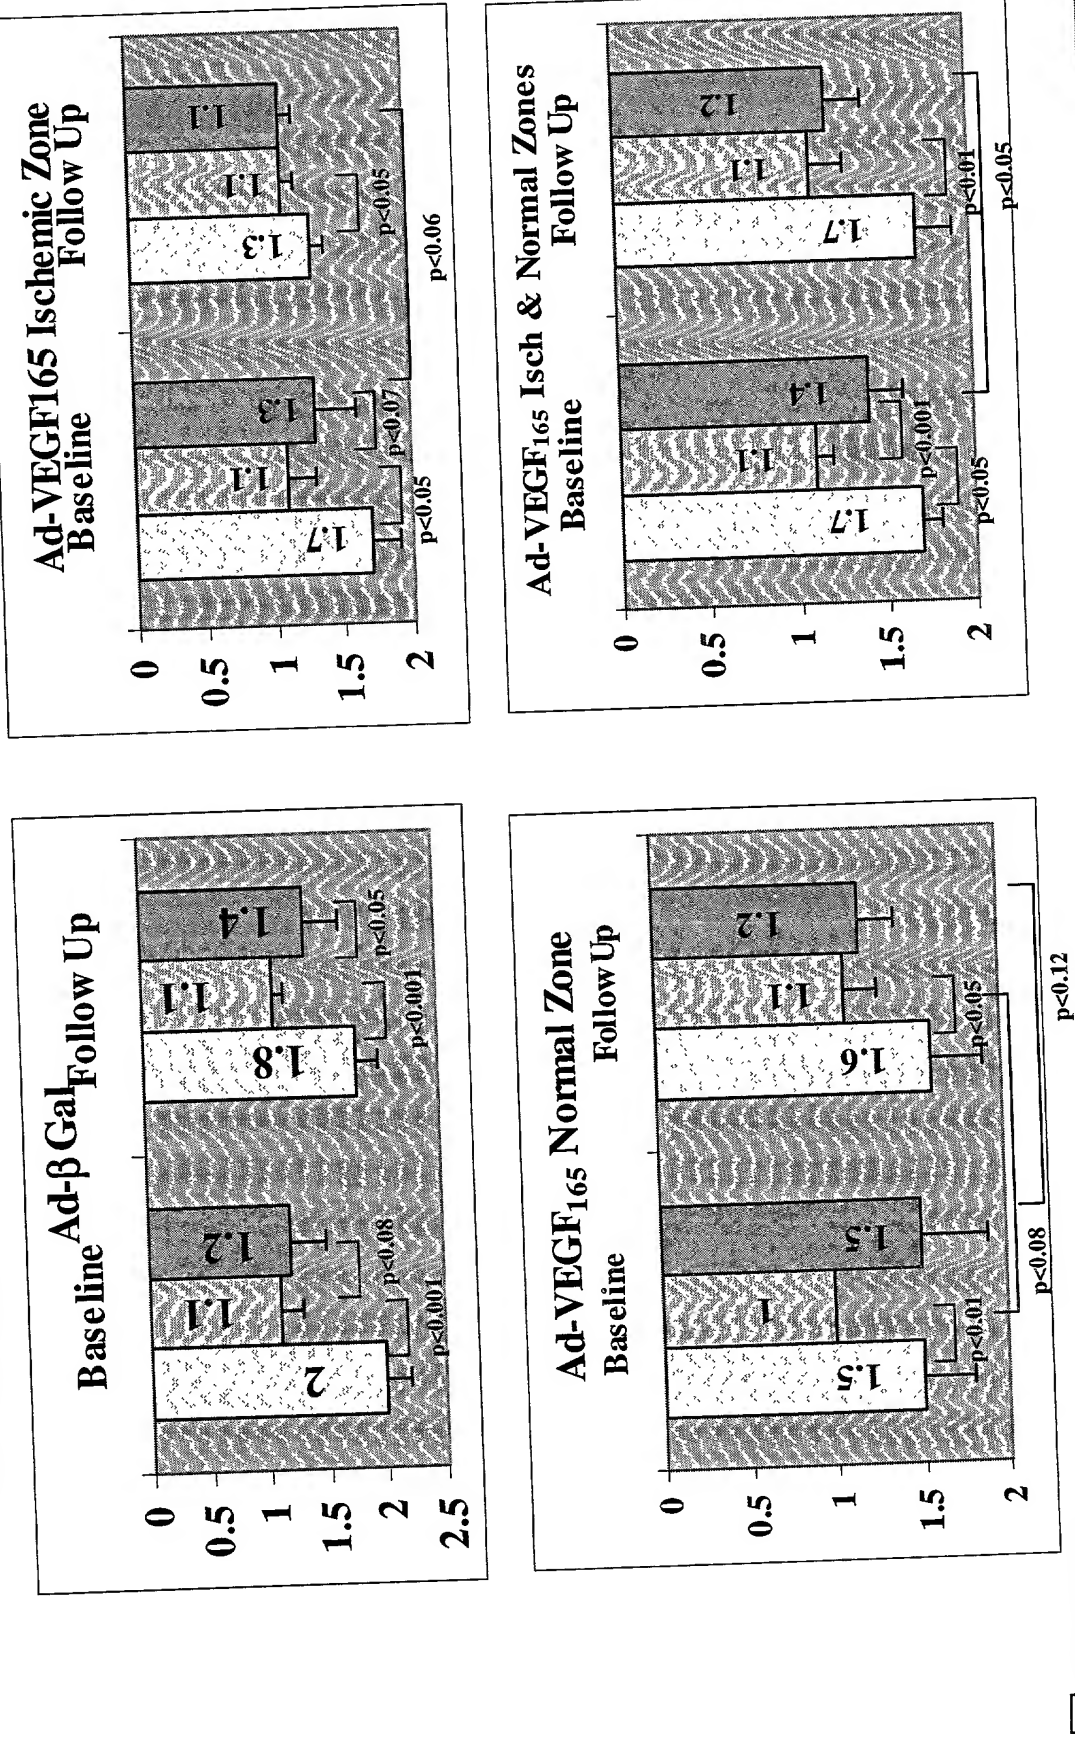

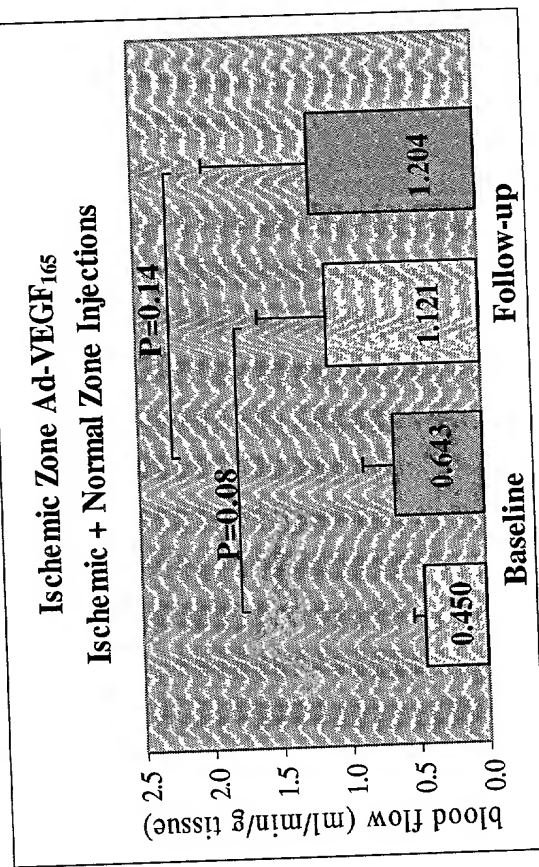

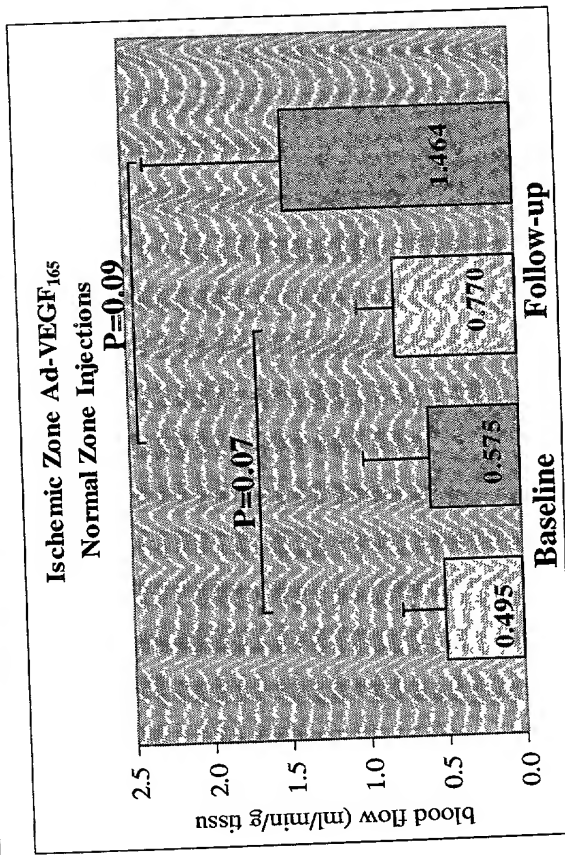

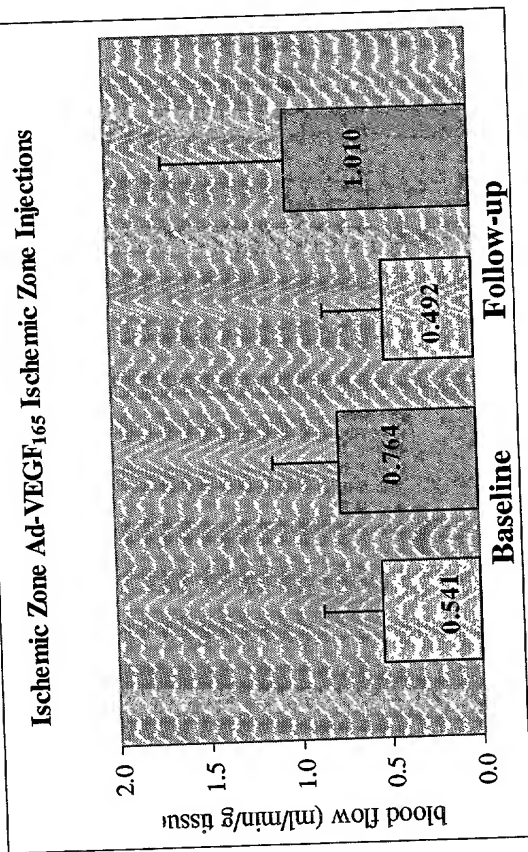

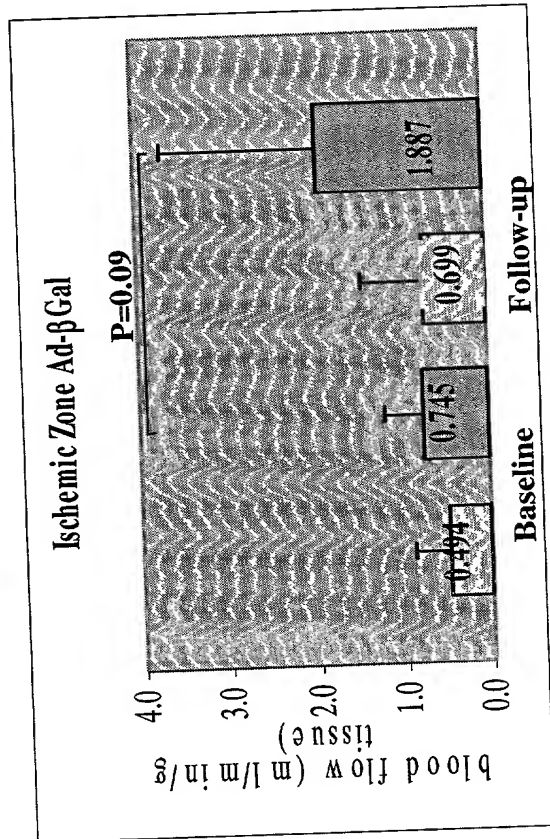

Figure 7

Transmural Myocardial Blood Flow

Rest
After Adenosine

Figure 8

Capillary Density

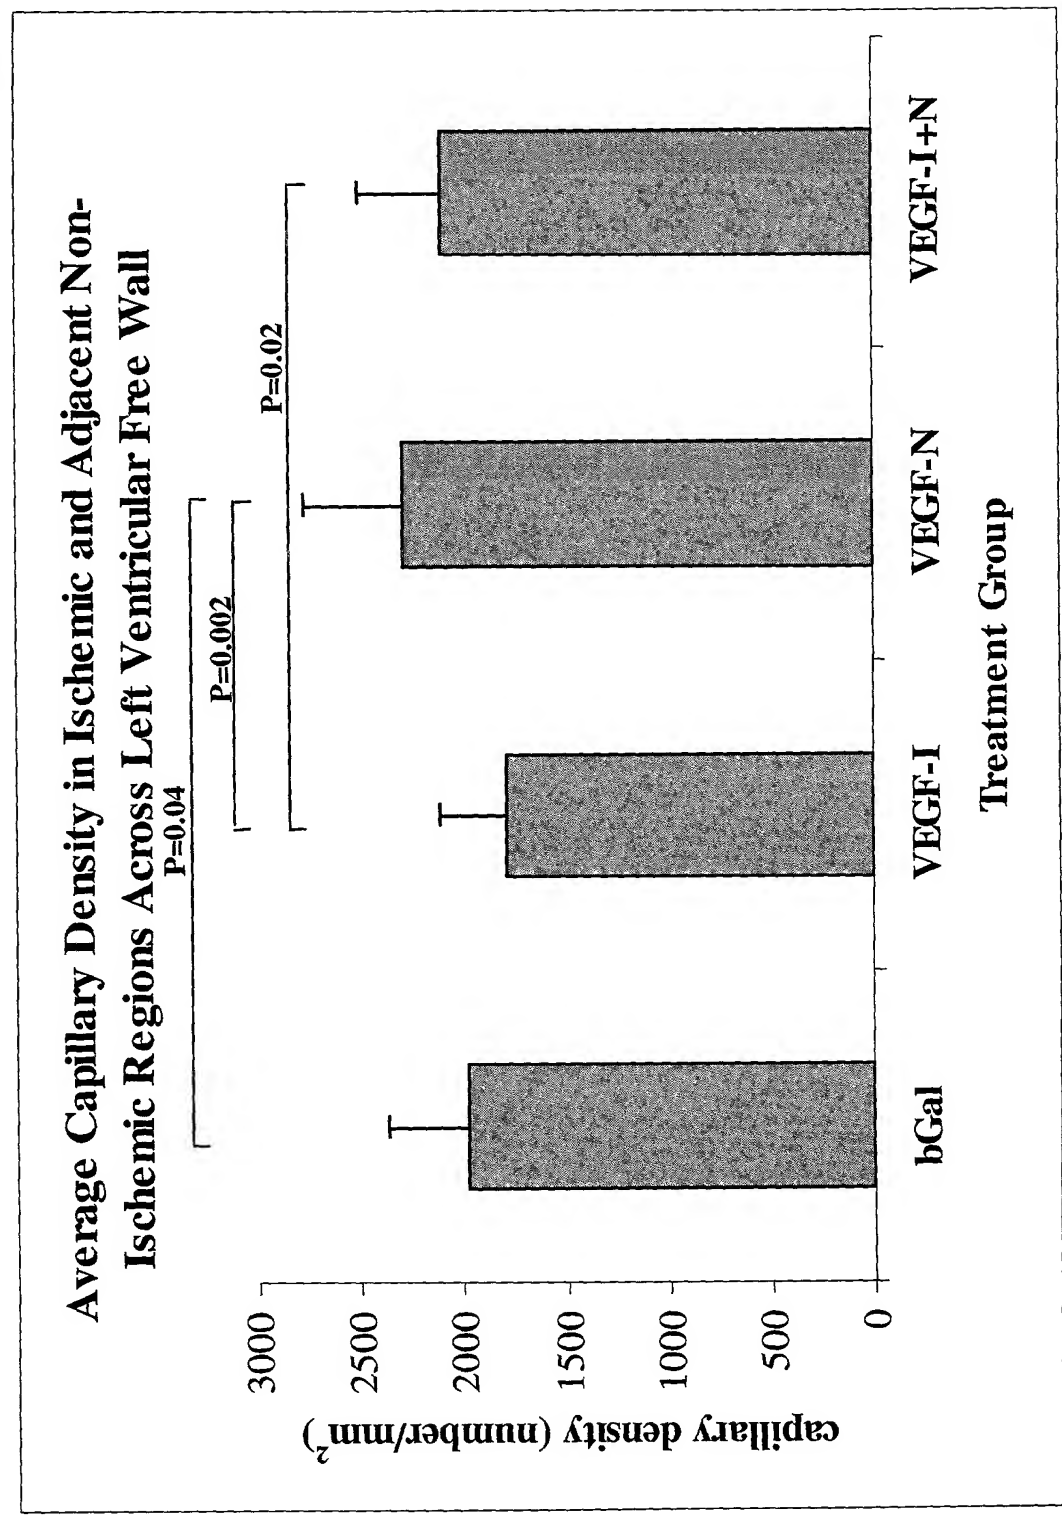

Figure 9